Six Harford County Girl Scouts Receive Prestigious Gold Award

Baltimore—Six Girl Scouts from Harford County: Emily Ballantyne, Troop 2510; Lucy Burnett, Juliette (independent Girl Scout); Brittany Dooling, Troop 604; Megan Howard, Troop 975; Amanda Mackey, Troop 975, and Erin VanSeeters, Troop 571, are among the 95 Girl Scouts who will receive the Girl Scout Gold Award during a ceremony on Sunday, April 25, 2010 at the Richland Ballroom in Edgewater, MD. Attorney Sheela Murthy, Esq. of the renowned Murthy Law Firm will be the keynote speaker.

The Gold Award is a national award that is granted to Girl Scouts who have fulfilled the rigid national standards criteria which scrutinize the time, leadership skills, creativity and effort used to bring their Gold Award community service project to fruition. The Girl Scout Gold Award is more than a good service project; it embodies the very essence of the Girl Scout mission—to build girls of courage, confidence and character, who make the world a better place through a sustainable project that fulfills a need locally, nationally or globally. For many girls the experiences learned, before, during and after the project, build a connection that fosters a sense of community and commitment that serves as the foundation for a lifetime of active citizenship. To date the Girl Scouts of Central Maryland council has pinned 1,007 Girl Scouts with this coveted award. Nationally, only 5.4% of eligible Girl Scouts successfully earn this award.

“We are proud of the values and practical skills these girls have demonstrated through the successful completion of their Gold Award projects,” said Traci A. Barnett, CEO of the central Maryland council. “Each of these 95 girls exemplifies what Girl Scouting is really all about.”
